WARWICK DENVER HOTEL PRESENTS A WONDERLAND OF HOLIDAY MEALS

DENVER (November 2, 2009) – There won't be sugar plums. But there will be Candied Salmon with Jalapeno Biscuits, Spiced Apple Champagne and more than 50 other distinct dishes creating visions of delightful dining for Denver's 2009 holiday season, all courtesy of Warwick Denver Hotel and Randolph's Restaurant and Bar.

Warwick Denver Hotel and Randolph's Restaurant and Bar have announced special dining menus to mark Thanksgiving, Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, New Year's Eve and New Year's Day 2009. From a traditional, yet mouth-watering Herb Roasted Turkey with Pan Gravy and Cranberry Chutney to an adventurous Pan Seared Sea Bass with Lump Crab and Tarragon Risotto and Truffle Choron Sauce, every holiday meal will be a memorable and delicious experience, with no shopping, cooking or clean-up.

"This will be the first holiday season since the hotel completed its $25 million redesign project, and it is going to be an absolutely joyous holiday season," said Scott Ostrander, general manager at Warwick Denver Hotel. "We really are going all-out to create exciting and varied menus at comfortable prices. Combine that with our thoughtful and personal service, and we are offering a holiday full of unique feasts to experience.
